Islamic Visual Language System

I. PHILOSOPHY: The Aesthetic of Illuminated Knowledge

Core Principle: Light as Learning

Islamic visual tradition is not about decoration — it is about illuminating the path to understanding. The visual language must feel like the quiet glow of a mishkat (niche lamp) in a scholarly library: warm, focused, and dignified.

Design DNA

Element	Expression
Light	Subtle gradients, warm golds, soft ivory —never harsh
Space	Generous margins, breathing room —knowledge needs silence
Structure	Invisible grids that guide the eye, never confine it
Rhythm	Alternating density: dense text passages balanced by quiet reflection zones
Authenticity	Every motif must trace to a real Islamic craft tradition

What We Avoid

- ✗ Overlaid geometric starbursts as “backgrounds”
- ✗ Generic mosque silhouettes
- ✗ Tessellated patterns that fight with text
- ✗ Overuse of arches as framing devices
- ✗ Decorative flourishes that serve no structural purpose

What We Embrace

- ✓ Negative space as reverence — the silence around words
- ✓ Edge treatments — borders that contain and elevate
- ✓ Typographic hierarchy — where the script itself becomes the ornament
- ✓ Subtle materiality — the texture of handmade paper, the warmth of aged vellum
- ✓ Color restraint — a disciplined palette that feels scholarly, not festive

II. COLOR SYSTEM: The Scholar’s Palette

Primary Palette

Role	Color	Hex	Usage
Parchment	Warm Ivory	#F5F0E8	Primary backgrounds, Quran pages
Ink	Deep Sepia	#3D2B1F	Primary text, borders
Gold	Burnished Gold	#B8956A	Accents, rules, key calligraphy
Teal	Muted Teal	#4A7C6F	Secondary accents, insight boxes
Crimson	Ochre Crimson	#8B3A3A	Hadith markers, important callouts

Extended Palette

Role	Color	Hex	Usage
Sage	Soft Sage	#8FA88F	Reflection pages, calm zones
Sand	Warm Sand	#D4C4A8	Background tints, borders
Charcoal	Soft Charcoal	#4A4A4A	Body text on light backgrounds
Indigo	Deep Indigo	#2E3A59	Night-mode scholarly pages

Usage Rules

- Never more than 3 colors per page (excluding black text and white)
- Gold is for light, not shine — matte, not metallic
- Teal is for guidance — used sparingly, like a teacher’s hand pointing
- Crimson is for transmission — marking the chain of narration (isnad)

III. TYPOGRAPHY: The Architecture of Sacred Words

Arabic Typefaces

Role	Style	Character	Usage
Primary Arabic	Modern Naskh	Clean, highly legible, slightly condensed	Quran verses, primary Arabic text
Display Arabic	Thuluth-inspired	Elegant, tall, rhythmic	Chapter titles, major headings
Calligraphic Arabic	Riq’ ah	Flowing, connected, personal	Hadith chains, scholarly asides
Decorative Arabic	Diwani-inspired	Dense, intricate, celebratory	Special dedications, limited use

Latin Typefaces

Role	Family	Character	Usage
Primary Serif	Cormorant Garamond	Classical, warm, scholarly	Body text, long-form reading
Display Serif	Playfair Display	Dramatic, high contrast	Chapter titles, major headings
Sans Serif	Source Sans Pro	Clean, modern, neutral	Labels, captions, UI elements
Monospace	Source Code Pro	Technical, precise	Reference numbers, citations

Typographic Scale

Display 1:	48pt / 56pt line-height	— Chapter titles
Display 2:	32pt / 40pt line-height	— Section headings
Heading 1:	24pt / 32pt line-height	— Major subsections
Heading 2:	18pt / 26pt line-height	— Subsections
Body Large:	14pt / 24pt line-height	— Primary reading text
Body:	12pt / 20pt line-height	— Standard body text
Caption:	10pt / 16pt line-height	— Footnotes, captions
Reference:	9pt / 14pt line-height	— Citation numbers, indices

Arabic-Latin Integration Rules

- Arabic text always right-aligned; Latin text left-aligned in bilingual layouts
- Arabic line-height increased by 20% to accommodate diacritics (tashkeel)
- When Arabic and Latin appear together, use baseline alignment with Latin raised slightly
- Arabic text should feel slightly larger than Latin at the same point size (optical correction)

IV. BORDERS: The Containment of Knowledge

Philosophy

Borders are not frames — they are thresholds. They mark the transition from the everyday world into the space of learning. They should feel like the carved wooden borders of a mihrab or the ruled lines of a manuscript page.

Border Types

1. The Single Rule (Minimal)

- 1pt line in Sepia or Gold
- Used for: Standard text blocks, footnotes, captions
- Purpose: Quiet containment, no visual weight

2. The Double Rule (Scholarly)

- 2pt + 1pt lines, 4pt gap between them
- Outer rule in Gold, inner rule in Sepia
- Used for: Hadith boxes, scholarly commentary, important quotations
- Purpose: Creates a sense of authority and weight

3. The Corner Bracket (Refined)

- L-shaped corners only, no full border
- 2pt lines in Sepia, corners in Gold
- Used for: Reflection prompts, student exercises, interactive elements
- Purpose: Invites engagement, suggests openness

4. The Illuminated Margin (Prestigious)

- Full border with corner ornaments (see Motifs section)
- 1.5pt line in Sepia, corner ornaments in Gold
- Used for: Quran pages, major hadith, chapter openers
- Purpose: Marks the highest level of sacred text

5. The Tapered Rule (Elegant)

- Lines taper from center to edges, or vice versa
- 1pt line in Sepia, subtle gradient
- Used for: Section dividers, transition pages
- Purpose: Creates visual flow, like a breath between ideas

V. PATTERNS: The Texture of Thought

Philosophy

Patterns in this system are not backgrounds — they are textures that suggest the materiality of knowledge. Like the watermark in fine paper or the subtle grain of handmade vellum, they should be felt, not seen.

Pattern Types

1. The Subtle Grid (Foundation)

- Ultra-fine lines (0.25pt) at 5% opacity in Sepia
- Creates a grid of 8mm squares or 4mm dots
- Used for: Background texture on standard pages
- Purpose: Suggests the ruled pages of a scholar's notebook without interfering with text

2. The Faded Rosette (Heritage)

- A single, large rosette motif (see Motifs) at 3% opacity in Gold
- Positioned in the corner or center of a page
- Used for: Chapter openers, divider pages
- Purpose: Evokes the shamsa (sunburst) of manuscript illumination without dominating

3. The Running Vine (Continuity)

- A horizontal band of simplified vine/leaf motif
- 12mm height, repeating seamlessly
- Used for: Page headers, footers, section dividers
- Purpose: Suggests the continuous chain of knowledge transmission

4. The Watermark (Authenticity)

- A single word or phrase in Arabic calligraphy at 2% opacity

- Positioned in the center of the page, behind text
- Used for: Certificate pages, official documents
- Purpose: Suggests authenticity and institutional identity

5. The Paper Grain (Materiality)

- A subtle noise texture at 2% opacity
 - Mimics the surface of handmade cotton paper
 - Used for: All digital backgrounds to reduce screen glare
 - Purpose: Creates warmth and tactility in digital environments

VI. MOTIFS: The Visual Vocabulary

Philosophy

Motifs are the words of this visual language. Each must be meaningful, not decorative. They should feel like the carved stone of a madrassa or the stamped leather of a binding — crafted, intentional, and timeless.

Core Motifs

1. The Rosette (Shamsa)

- Description: A stylized eight-petaled flower, simplified to geometric essentials
- Construction: Eight radiating petals from a central circle, each petal a single curved line
- Usage: Corner ornaments, page markers, bullet points
- Color: Gold or Sepia, never filled (outline only)
- Scale: 8mm to 24mm depending on context

2. The Vine Scroll (Tendrils)

- Description: A continuous, asymmetrical scroll of stylized leaves
- Construction: Single line with alternating leaf shapes, no flowers
- Usage: Running borders, dividers, header/footer rules
- Color: Sepia or Teal
- Scale: 6mm to 12mm height

3. The Keyhole Arch (Mihrab)

- Description: A highly stylized, flattened arch shape — not a full arch
- Construction: A rectangle with a small, pointed indentation at top center
- Usage: Section markers, chapter indicators, special callouts
- Color: Gold outline, or filled with Teal at 10% opacity
- Scale: 16mm to 32mm
- Note: Used sparingly — no more than once per spread

4. The Star Point (Nukta)

- Description: A small, eight-pointed star formed by two overlapping squares
- Construction: Two squares rotated 45°, outline only

- Usage: Bullet points, footnote markers, list indicators
- Color: Gold or Crimson
- Scale: 4mm to 8mm

5. The Chain Link (Silsila)

- Description: A series of interlocking oval shapes
- Construction: Simple oval links, horizontal or vertical
- Usage: Hadith chains, scholarly lineages, connection indicators
- Color: Sepia or Gold
- Scale: 4mm height for text, 12mm for display

6. The Crescent Leaf (Hilal)

- Description: A single, stylized crescent-shaped leaf
- Construction: A curved line with a single vein, no serration
- Usage: Accent marks, decorative bullets, margin notes
- Color: Sage or Teal
- Scale: 6mm to 10mm

VII. ARABIC TYPOGRAPHY INTEGRATION

Principles

Arabic text is not “added” to Latin layouts — it is woven into the design. The visual language must honor the right-to-left flow and the inherent beauty of Arabic script.

Integration Patterns

1. The Parallel Column (Bilingual)

English text flows left to right	أنا أكتب رسالة طويلة
in a clean, generous column.	في أعمدة واضحة
	مع مسافات كافية
Both columns share the same	أنا أكتب رسالة طويلة
baseline grid for harmony.	في أعمدة واضحة

- Rule: Equal column widths, generous gutter (24mm)
- Rule: Arabic column always on the right in LTR layouts
- Rule: Both columns use the same baseline grid

2. The Overlaid Calligraphy (Artistic)

[Large Arabic calligraphy in background, 10% opacity]
[English text overlaid in foreground, readable]

- Rule: Arabic text is decorative, English is primary
- Rule: Arabic opacity never exceeds 15%
- Rule: Arabic text should be a complete, meaningful phrase

3. The Interwoven Heading (Unified)

- Rule: Arabic and English share the same heading line
- Rule: Arabic is slightly smaller, positioned to the right
- Rule: A single rule separates heading from body

4. The Isolated Arabic (Reverent)

- Rule: Arabic stands alone, centered, with generous space
- Rule: Translation follows below, smaller, in italics
- Rule: Used for Quran verses, supplications, and sacred phrases

VIII. VERSE LAYOUTS: The Presentation of Quran

Philosophy

Quran verses are the highest form of text in this system. They must be treated with the reverence of a mushaf page — but adapted for modern learning contexts.

Layout Types

1. The Full Page Verse (Majestic)

- Background: Parchment (#F5F0E8)
- Border: Illuminated Margin (Type 4) in Gold
- Arabic: Centered, 18pt Naskh, full tashkeel
- Translation: Below Arabic, 12pt Garamond, italic
- Reference: Below translation, 10pt Sans, in parentheses
- Margins: Minimum 40mm on all sides

2. The Inline Verse (Integrated)

- Container: Corner Bracket border (Type 3) in Teal
- Arabic: Right-aligned, 14pt Naskh
- Translation: Below Arabic, 12pt Garamond
- Reference: Below translation, 10pt Sans
- Background: Slightly tinted (Sand at 10%)

3. The Verse Card (Memorable)

- Container: Illuminated Margin border (Type 4) in Gold
- Background: Parchment with subtle paper grain
- Arabic: Centered, 16pt Thuluth-inspired display
- Translation: Centered below, 12pt Garamond
- Reference: Centered below, 10pt Sans
- Motifs: Rosette at top and bottom, Star Point between Arabic and translation

IX. HADITH LAYOUTS: The Transmission of Wisdom

Philosophy

Hadith are transmitted knowledge — they carry the weight of a chain of trust. The layout must honor this isnad (chain of narration) while making the content accessible to learners.

Layout Types

1. The Scholarly Hadith (Formal)

- Container: Double Rule border (Type 2) in Gold/Sepia
- Background: Parchment with subtle grid pattern
- Heading: “Scholarly Commentary” in Thuluth-inspired, 18pt, in Sepia
- Scholar name: 12pt Garamond, bold, in Charcoal
- Quote: 12pt Garamond, italic, in Sepia, indented 24pt
- Analysis: 12pt Garamond, regular, in Charcoal
- Reference: 10pt Sans, italic, in Sepia, below divider

X. REFLECTION PAGES: The Space for Contemplation

Philosophy

Reflection is not empty space — it is intentional silence. These pages must feel like the quiet courtyard of a madrasa, inviting the learner to pause and internalize.

Layout Structure

Design Specifications

- Background: Sage (#8FA88F) at 10% tint, or Parchment with subtle paper grain
- Border: None, or single rule in Sage at 0.5pt
- Heading: “Reflection” in Thuluth-inspired, 32pt, centered, in Teal
- Prompts: 14pt Garamond, regular, in Charcoal
- Bullet points: Crescent Leaf motif, 6mm, in Teal
- Blank space: Minimum 60% of page for writing
- Margins: 30mm on all sides, creating a “courtyard” feel

Variation: The Guided Reflection

[Crescent Leaf motif]

Reflection

The Prophet ﷺ taught us that knowledge is a trust.
Consider the following:

What knowledge has Allah entrusted to you?

[Blank lines for response]

How will you use this knowledge to benefit others?

[Blank lines for response]

- Prompt boxes: Corner Bracket border (Type 3) in Teal
- Lines: Dotted lines at 0.25pt in Sepia for writing
- Spacing: 24pt between prompt and response area

XI. ISLAMIC INSIGHT BOXES: The Nugget of Wisdom

Philosophy

Insight boxes are teaching moments — they pull the learner aside for a brief, valuable clarification. They must feel like a trusted teacher’s whisper, not a shout.

Layout Types

1. The Sidebar Insight (Integrated)

- Position: Right margin, 40% width, aligned with related text
- Container: Single Rule border (Type 1) in Teal
- Background: Teal at 5% tint
- Heading: “Islamic Insight” in Sans, 10pt, bold, in Teal
- Icon: Star Point motif, 6mm, in Teal
- Text: 10pt Garamond, regular, in Charcoal
- Rule: No border on left, creating a “pull-out” feel

2. The Inline Insight (Embedded)

- Container: Single Rule border (Type 1) in Teal, full width
- Background: Teal at 5% tint
- Heading: Inline with text, “💡 Islamic Insight:” in Sans, 10pt, bold
- Text: 10pt Garamond, regular
- Icon: Star Point at end, 6mm

3. The Featured Insight (Prominent)

- Container: Double Rule border (Type 2) in Gold/Sepia
- Background: Parchment with subtle rosette pattern at 3%
- Heading: “Islamic Insight” in Thuluth-inspired, 18pt, centered
- Quote: 14pt Garamond, italic, centered
- Attribution: 10pt Sans, centered below
- Commentary: 12pt Garamond, regular, below attribution
- Motifs: Large Star Point at top and bottom, 16mm, in Gold

XII. SCHOLARLY COMMENTARY LAYOUTS: The Voice of Authority

Philosophy

Scholarly commentary is the bridge between text and understanding. It must feel authoritative yet accessible, like a trusted shaykh explaining a complex point with patience and clarity.

Layout Types

1. The Footnote Commentary (Traditional)

The Prophet ﷺ said that Allah descends to the lowest heaven during the last third of the night¹.

¹ This is based on the hadith narrated by Abu Hurairah (may Allah be pleased with him) in Sahih al-Bukhari. The scholars have explained that this "descent" is understood in a manner befitting Allah's majesty, without asking "how" (bi-la kayf).

[Reference: Fath al-Bari, Ibn Hajar al-Asqalani]

- Reference marker: Superscript number, 8pt, in Crimson
- Divider: Single Rule (Type 1) in Sepia
- Number: 9pt Sans, bold, in Crimson
- Text: 10pt Garamond, regular, in Charcoal
- Source: 9pt Sans, italic, in Sepia, below commentary

2. The Marginal Commentary (Scholarly)

Main text discussing the five pillars of Islam...

 Scholarly Note

Imam al-Nawawi (may Allah have mercy on him) explains in his commentary on Sahih Muslim that the five pillars are the foundation upon which the entire structure of Islam is built...

[Reference: Sharh

- Position: Right margin, 35% width
- Container: Single Rule border (Type 1) in Sepia
- Background: Sand at 10% tint
- Heading: “📖 Scholarly Note” in Sans, 10pt, bold, in Sepia
- Text: 9pt Garamond, regular, in Charcoal
- Reference: 8pt Sans, italic, in Sepia

3. The Full Commentary (Extended)

- Container: Double Rule border (Type 2) in Gold/Sepia
- Background: Parchment with subtle grid pattern
- Heading: “Scholarly Commentary” in Thuluth-inspired, 18pt, in Sepia
- Scholar name: 12pt Garamond, bold, in Charcoal
- Quote: 12pt Garamond, italic, in Sepia, indented 24pt
- Analysis: 12pt Garamond, regular, in Charcoal
- Reference: 10pt Sans, italic, in Sepia, below divider

XIII. QURAN PAGES: The Sacred Text

Philosophy

Quran pages must feel like opening a fine *mushaf — the text is the star, the design is the servant. Every element must enhance readability and reverence.

Standard Quran Page Layout

Specifications

- Page size: A4 or custom 210mm x 297mm (portrait)
- Margins: 30mm top, 25mm bottom, 20mm sides
- Header: 10pt Sans, centered, in Sepia — Surah name in Arabic and English
- Border: Illuminated Margin (Type 4) in Gold, 5mm from page edge
- Basmalah: Centered, 18pt Thuluth-inspired, in Sepia, with 24pt space above and below
- Quran text: 16pt Naskh, fully voweled, justified, 24pt line-height
- Ayah markers: Small rosette (4mm) in Gold, inline with text
- Juz markers: Small medallion (8mm) in Gold, in margin
- Sajdah markers: Small prostration symbol (6mm) in Crimson, in margin
- Footer: 10pt Sans, centered, in Sepia

Quran Page with Translation

[Arabic text continues...]
[Translation continues...]
[Illuminated Margin Border]
[Footer: Surah Al-Baqarah Ayat 1-5 Page 3]

- Arabic: Right-aligned, 16pt Naskh, fully voweled
- Translation: Left-aligned, 12pt Garamond, 18pt line-height
- Spacing: 12pt gap between Arabic and translation
- Ayah markers: Rosette in Arabic text, number in translation

XIV. HADITH PAGES: The Record of the Sunnah

Philosophy

Hadith pages must feel like scholarly records — precise, trustworthy, and accessible. The isnad (chain) is as important as the matn (text).

Standard Hadith Page Layout

[Header: Book Name Chapter Page Number]
[Chapter Title in Thuluth-inspired, 24pt, centered]
[Chapter Introduction in 12pt Garamond, italic]
[Chain Link motif] Hadith 1
[Narrator chain in 10pt Sans, italic, in Sepia]
Narrated by Abu Hurairah (may Allah be pleased with him)
from the Prophet :ﷺ
[Hadith text in 14pt Garamond, regular, in Charcoal]
"The strong believer is better and more beloved to Allah than the weak believer, while there is good in both."
[Reference in 10pt Sans, right-aligned, in Sepia]
[Sahih Muslim 6774]

- Background: Parchment with subtle rosette pattern at 5%
- Border: Illuminated Margin (Type 4) in Gold
- Basmalah: Centered, 18pt Thuluth-inspired, in Sepia
- Title: 36pt Thuluth-inspired, centered, in Sepia
- Subtitle: 18pt Garamond, italic, centered, in Charcoal
- Motifs: Large Rosette at top and bottom, Star Point in middle

2. The Chapter Opener (Transition)

- Background: Parchment with subtle paper grain
- Border: None

- Chapter number: 14pt Sans, centered, in Gold
- Chapter title: 32pt Thuluth-inspired, centered, in Sepia
- Tapered rules: Gold, framing the title
- Summary: 12pt Garamond, italic, centered, 24pt indent, in Charcoal
- Motif: Crescent Leaf at bottom, 12mm, in Sage

3. The Closing Page (Dua)

- Background: Parchment with subtle rosette pattern at 3%
- Border: Illuminated Margin (Type 4) in Gold
- English dua: 14pt Garamond, italic, centered, in Charcoal
- Arabic dua: 16pt Naskh, centered, in Sepia
- Reference: 10pt Sans, centered, in Sepia
- Closing prayer: 12pt Garamond, regular, centered
- Ameen: 14pt Thuluth-inspired, centered, in Gold

XVI. DIGITAL ADAPTATIONS: Screen and Interface

Philosophy

The visual language must translate to digital environments without losing its warmth. Screens are cold — the design must compensate.

Digital-Specific Rules

Element	Print	Digital
Background	Parchment (#F5F0E8)	Slightly cooler (#F7F2EA) to reduce yellow cast on screens
Text	Sepia (#3D2B1F)	Charcoal (#4A4A4A) for better contrast
Borders	Gold (#B8956A)	Slightly brighter (#C4A57A) for visibility
Patterns	3-5% opacity	2-4% opacity to reduce moiré
Margins	25-30mm	40px minimum for touch targets
Line height	20-24pt	1.6em for readability
Buttons	N/A	Corner Bracket style, with subtle hover state

Digital Components

1. The Digital Card (Responsive)

.sunnah-card {
  background: #F7F2EA;
  border: 1px solid #B8956A;
  border-radius: 0; /* No rounded corners — scholarly, not casual */ padding: 24px;
  margin: 16px;
  position: relative;
}

.sunnah-card::before { content: "◆"; /* Rosette motif */
  position: absolute;
  top: -8px;
  left: 50%;
  transform: translateX(-50%);
  color: #B8956A;
  font-size: 16px;
  background: #F7F2EA;
  padding: 0 8px;

2. The Digital Button (Interactive)

.sunnah-button {
  background: transparent;
  border: 1.5px solid #4A7C6F; /* Teal */
  color: #4A7C6F;
  padding: 12px 24px;
  font-family: 'Source Sans Pro', sans-serif;
  font-size: 14px;
  text-transform: uppercase;
  letter-spacing: 1px;

    position: relative;
    transition: all 0.3s ease;
}

.sunnah-button::before,
.sunnah-button::after {
    content: "";
    position: absolute;
    width: 8px;
    height: 8px;
    border: 1.5px solid #4A7C6F;
    transition: all 0.3s ease;
}

.sunnah-button::before {
    top: -4px;
    left: -4px;
    border-right: none;
    border-bottom: none;
}

.sunnah-button::after { bottom: -4px;
    right: -4px;
    border-left: none;
    border-top: none;
}

.sunnah-button:hover {
    background: #4A7C6F;
    color: #F7F2EA;

3. The Digital Insight Box (Interactive)

```

.sunnah-insight {
    background: rgba(74, 124, 111, 0.05); /* Teal at 5% */ border-left: 3px solid #4A7C6F;
    padding: 16px 20px;
    margin: 16px 0;
    position: relative;
}

.sunnah-insight::before { content: "$$\vcenter{\hbox{\includegraphics[height=\ht\strutbox]{/usr/share/docminer/emoji/2726.png}}}}{$$"; /* Star Point */ position: absolute;
    top: 12px;
    left: -12px;
    color: #4A7C6F;
    font-size: 20px;

background: #F7F2EA;
width: 24px;
height: 24px;
display: flex;
align-items: center;
justify-content: center;
```

XVII. IMPLEMENTATION CHECKLIST

For Print Materials

- All borders use specified types and colors
- Arabic text is fully voweled for Quran and Hadith
- Margins are generous (minimum 25mm)
- Gold is matte, not metallic
- Paper stock is warm white or cream
- Patterns are subtle (maximum 5% opacity)

For Digital Materials

- Backgrounds are slightly cooler than print
- Text is darker for contrast
- Interactive elements have hover states
- Touch targets are minimum 40px
- Patterns are reduced to prevent moiré
- Arabic fonts are web-optimized

For All Materials

- No more than 3 colors per page (excluding black/white)
 - Motifs are used sparingly (maximum 3 per spread)
 - Typography hierarchy is clear and consistent
 - Space is treated as a design element
 - Every visual element serves the learning experience

XVIII. THE SPIRIT OF THE SYSTEM

This visual language is not about creating “Islamic-looking” materials. It is about creating materials that feel like the tradition itself — dignified, warm, scholarly, and timeless.

Every element must ask: Does this help the learner understand? If the answer is no, it does not belong.

The goal is not to decorate knowledge. The goal is to illuminate it.

“And say: My Lord, increase me in knowledge.” — Surah Taha 20:114
