

SUNNAH REMEDIES

BRAND BIBLE

The Highest Authority for Every Future Sunnah Remedies Design

Version 1.0 | July 2026 Classification: Internal — All Departments

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. Brand Philosophy
 2. Mission
 3. Vision
 4. Core Values
 5. Emotional Positioning
 6. Luxury Positioning
 7. Islamic Identity
 8. Educational Identity
 9. Clinical Identity
 10. Voice and Tone
 11. Writing Style
 12. Editorial Principles
 13. Storytelling Principles
 14. Design Philosophy
 15. User Experience Philosophy
 16. Visual Language
 17. Signature Brand Elements
 18. Brand Personality
 19. Typography Philosophy
 20. Colour Psychology
 21. Layout Philosophy
 22. Motion Philosophy
 23. Photography Philosophy
 24. Illustration Philosophy
 25. Icon Philosophy
 26. Accessibility Standards
 27. Brand Consistency Rules
 28. Brand Do's and Don'ts
-

1. BRAND PHILOSOPHY

The Founding Principle

Sunnah Remedies is a unified Institute of Prophetic Medicine — one premium institutional brand expressed through four interconnected pillars: the Institute, the Clinic, the Apothecary, and the Community. Every asset in this system exists to reinforce a single, coherent institutional experience, never four separate brands.

The register is deliberately secular-luxury: quiet, exact, and confident. It is benchmarked against houses such as Aesop, Aman, Jo Malone and Harvard Executive Education rather than faith-institutional or clinical-medical conventions. Restraint is the defining discipline — distinctiveness comes from real substance and craft, not decoration alone.

The Three Pillars of Our Philosophy

Pillar I: Ṣaḥīḥ (Authenticity) Every claim, every remedy, every teaching must be traceable to authenticated sources. We do not speculate. We do not embellish. We transmit what is established.

Pillar II: Ḥikmah (Wisdom) Knowledge without wisdom is dangerous. We teach not only what the Prophet prescribed, but when, why, and within what limits. Context is sacred. Nuance is obligatory.

Pillar III: Ḥilm (Gentleness & Restraint) We reject sensationalism. We reject fear-mongering. We reject the marketing of faith as a product. Our communication is measured, dignified, and proportionate — reflecting the character of the one whose medicine we transmit.

The Brand Equation

Prophetic Authority + Scholarly Rigor + Clinical Accountability = Sunnah Remedies

We are not “alternative medicine.” We are not “holistic wellness.” We are not a brand opportunity. We are a received body of knowledge — transmitted through authenticated chains, tested against observable evidence, and constrained by the limits its own sources declare.

The Sacred Covenant

“Healing is from Allah; the remedy is a means.” — Prophetic teaching (Ṣaḥīḥ al-Bukhārī)

This hadith is the gravitational centre of our brand. It reminds us that:

- We are stewards, not owners, of this knowledge
- We are means, not ends
- We are servants of the tradition, not masters of it

Every design decision, every word choice, every visual expression must orbit this truth.

Principles That Govern the Identity

- One design system. One navigation model. One institution.
- Restraint over decoration — the absence of ornament means every element must earn its place.
- Real substance carries the brand: named authorship, dated work, credentials and citations, not aesthetic alone.
- The palette sits close to default AI-generated aesthetics, so distinctiveness must come from print-craft typography and genuine institutional substance.

2. MISSION

The Mission Statement

To preserve, verify, and transmit prophetic medicine through authenticated scholarship, clinical governance, and responsible education — empowering practitioners and patients with knowledge that is rooted in revelation, validated by evidence, and bounded by sacred limits.

Mission Dimensions

Scholarly Preservation We maintain the chain of transmission (isnād) from the Prophet ﷺ through the classical scholars to the present day. Our curriculum is built on primary sources, not secondary summaries.

Clinical Verification We subject prophetic remedies to modern laboratory and clinical scrutiny where appropriate, not to validate the Sunnah (which needs no validation), but to understand how and why these remedies work in the human body.

Responsible Education We teach with accountability. Our graduates understand the limits of their knowledge, the scope of their practice, and the ethical boundaries of prophetic medicine. We do not produce practitioners who overreach.

Patient Dignity At every encounter — whether in a clinic, a classroom, or a correspondence — the dignity of the patient and student is paramount. We serve. We do not sell.

3. VISION

The Vision Statement

To become the global standard for prophetic medicine education and practice — where every Muslim seeking authentic knowledge of the Prophet’s ﷺ remedies finds clarity, every practitioner finds accountability, and every patient finds dignity.

Vision Horizons

Horizon 1: Educational Excellence (0–3 years) Establish Sunnah Remedies as the most rigorous, comprehensive, and accessible institution for prophetic medicine education worldwide. Our curriculum sets the benchmark against which all other programmes are measured.

Horizon 2: Clinical Integration (3–7 years) Develop a network of accredited clinics and practitioners operating under the Sunnah Remedies standard — where prophetic medicine is practiced with clinical governance, patient safety protocols, and transparent outcomes.

Horizon 3: Knowledge Preservation (7–15 years) Build a permanent research and preservation institution — a digital and physical archive of prophetic medicine manuscripts, clinical studies, and scholarly commentary that serves the Ummah for generations.

Horizon 4: Global Standard (15+ years) Become the recognised global authority on prophetic medicine — referenced by universities, medical institutions, and Islamic organisations worldwide. The name “Sunnah Remedies” synonymous with uncompromising authenticity.

4. CORE VALUES

The Six Core Values

1. Iḥsān (Excellence in Every Detail) We do not accept mediocrity. Every course, every treatment, every communication, every design element must reflect the highest standard of excellence. “If something is to be taught, it must be taught well.” This is not aspirational; it is operational.

2. Ṣidq (Truthfulness & Transparency) We say what we know. We admit what we do not know. We correct ourselves when we err. Our sources are cited. Our methods are disclosed. Our limitations are stated. There are no hidden agendas, no exaggerated claims, no marketing half-truths.

3. Ḥifẓ (Stewardship & Preservation) We are guardians of a sacred trust. The knowledge of prophetic medicine was transmitted through generations of scholars who sacrificed comfort, wealth, and sometimes their lives to preserve it. We hold this trust with the same gravity. We do not distort, dilute, or commercialise it.

4. ’Adl (Justice & Equity) Our knowledge is accessible regardless of wealth, geography, or status. We price our courses fairly. We provide scholarships where needed. We serve patients without discrimination. Excellence is not the privilege of the elite.

5. Taqwā (God-Consciousness in All Affairs) Every decision is filtered through the question: “Is this pleasing to Allah?” This is not a slogan. It is the operational framework for curriculum design, clinical practice, financial management, and brand communication.

6. Itḥān (Mastery & Depth) We reject superficiality. Our courses are deep, not broad. Our practitioners are specialists, not generalists. Our scholarship is primary-source, not derivative. We value depth over breadth, precision over volume.

5. EMOTIONAL POSITIONING

The Emotional Territory

Sunnah Remedies occupies a unique emotional space: sacred authority with human warmth. We are not cold academics. We are not emotional manipulators. We are scholars and practitioners who carry a heavy trust with lightness of heart.

The Emotional Arc

Primary Emotion: Reverence Our audience feels reverence for the tradition we transmit. This is not fear; it is awe. It is the recognition that they are connecting with something far older, far greater, and far more true than any contemporary trend.

Secondary Emotion: Confidence Our audience feels confident in the knowledge they receive. They know it has been verified, tested, and bounded. They can trust it. They can act on it. They can teach it to others.

Tertiary Emotion: Belonging Our audience feels they belong to a community of serious seekers — not tourists, not dabblers, but people committed to understanding and practicing prophetic medicine with integrity.

Emotional Pitfalls to Avoid

- Fear-mongering: Never use fear of illness, jinn, or spiritual harm to motivate enrollment or treatment.

- False hope: Never promise cures. Never guarantee outcomes. The remedy is a means; healing is from Allah.
 - Spiritual elitism: Never imply that prophetic medicine is superior to conventional medicine in all cases. We integrate, we do not replace.
 - Cultural nostalgia: Never romanticise the past at the expense of present reality. The Sunnah is timeless; our application of it must be timely.
-

6. LUXURY POSITIONING

The Nature of Our Luxury

Sunnah Remedies is a luxury of substance, not a luxury of status. Our luxury is not expressed through gold leaf, excessive ornamentation, or inflated prices. Our luxury is expressed through:

Rarity of Knowledge Authentic, primary-source scholarship in prophetic medicine is rare. We offer what few others can.

Depth of Expertise Our instructors and practitioners are not generalists. They are masters of their discipline. This expertise is a luxury in an age of superficiality.

Quality of Experience Every touchpoint — from the website to the classroom to the clinic — must feel considered, refined, and intentional. Not opulent. Refined.

Exclusivity of Access Our advanced programmes are selective. Not everyone who applies is accepted. This is not elitism; it is stewardship. We do not dilute the standard to increase revenue.

Luxury Expression Principles

- Restraint over excess: Less is more. Every element must earn its place.
 - Materiality over decoration: Use materials that feel authentic — paper, leather, wood, stone. Not plastic, not chrome, not synthetic gloss.
 - Timelessness over trend: Avoid anything that will look dated in five years. Classical proportions. Enduring typefaces. Mature colour palettes.
 - Quiet confidence over loud assertion: We do not need to shout. Our authority speaks softly.
-

7. ISLAMIC IDENTITY

The Islamic Foundation

Sunnah Remedies is unapologetically Islamic. This is not a marketing angle. It is the ontological reality of our existence. Every aspect of our brand must reflect Islamic principles, aesthetics, and ethics.

Islamic Design Principles

Tawḥīd (Divine Unity) Our designs reflect unity, not fragmentation. Central focal points. Balanced compositions. Harmonious proportions. No chaos. No clutter.

Iḥsān (Excellence) Every design element must be the best it can be. No shortcuts. No approximations. The Prophet said, “Allah loves that when one of you does something, he does it with excellence.”

Ḥilm (Gentleness & Restraint) Our designs are gentle on the eye. No harsh contrasts. No aggressive colours. No jarring transitions. Restraint is a virtue.

Barakah (Blessing & Abundance) Our designs should feel abundant without being excessive. Generous whitespace. Rich textures. Warm materials. A sense of plenty that comes from quality, not quantity.

ʿAdl (Justice & Balance) Our compositions are balanced. Symmetrical where appropriate. Asymmetrical where dynamic. But always balanced. Never top-heavy. Never lopsided.

Islamic Aesthetic References

- Islamic geometric patterns: Use with restraint. Not as decoration, but as structural expression of divine order.
- Arabic calligraphy: Use only when the meaning is clear and appropriate. Never as mere ornament.
- Islamic manuscript tradition: Reference the illuminated manuscript tradition — marginalia, gold leaf, deep colours — but modernise, not mimic.
- Mosque architecture: Reference the proportions, the light, the spatial generosity. Not the domes and minarets as cliché.

Islamic Ethical Boundaries

- No anthropomorphic imagery: No depictions of the Prophet , the Sahaba, or any sacred figures.
- No gender mixing in clinical imagery: Where clinical photography is used, maintain appropriate Islamic boundaries.
- No superstitious claims: No claims of guaranteed spiritual protection, automatic barakah, or magical efficacy.
- No shirk: All healing is attributed to Allah. The remedy is a means. This must be explicit, not implicit.

8. EDUCATIONAL IDENTITY

The Educational Position

Sunnah Remedies is an institution of higher learning, not a workshop provider, not a content creator, not an influencer. We are the Oxford, the Al-Azhar, the Johns Hopkins of prophetic medicine.

Educational Brand Markers

Academic Rigor Our courses have prerequisites, assessments, and accreditation. They are not “watch at your own pace” entertainment. They are serious study.

Primary-Source Scholarship We teach from the original texts — Ṣaḥīḥ al-Bukhārī, Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim, the works of Ibn al-Qayyim, Ibn Ḥajar, and the classical scholars. Not summaries. Not simplifications. The real sources.

Evidence-Based Practice Where clinical evidence exists, we teach it. Where it does not, we acknowledge the gap. We do not invent evidence. We do not ignore it.

Mentorship Model Education is not information delivery. It is transformation. Our instructors are mentors, not lecturers. Our students are disciples, not customers.

Educational Tone

- Authoritative but accessible: We do not dumb down. We clarify. We do not simplify. We illuminate.
 - Serious but not solemn: Learning is joyful. The pursuit of knowledge is an act of worship. Our tone reflects this joy without frivolity.
 - Demanding but supportive: Our standards are high. Our support is higher. We challenge our students because we believe in them.
-

9. CLINICAL IDENTITY

The Clinical Position

Sunnah Remedies operates with clinical governance. Our practitioners are accountable. Our treatments are documented. Our outcomes are measured. We are not a wellness spa. We are not a spiritual retreat. We are a clinical institution practicing prophetic medicine.

Clinical Brand Markers

Patient Safety First Every clinical protocol prioritises patient safety. Informed consent. Contraindication screening. Aftercare instructions. Emergency procedures.

Evidence-Based Practice We do not practice based on tradition alone. We practice based on tradition and evidence. Where evidence is lacking, we practice with caution and transparency.

Professional Boundaries Our practitioners maintain professional boundaries at all times. No dual relationships. No inappropriate familiarity. No exploitation of patient vulnerability.

Documentation & Accountability Every treatment is documented. Every outcome is recorded. Every practitioner is accountable to a governing body. There is no “off the books” practice.

Clinical Tone

- Precise: Clinical language is exact. No ambiguity. No vagueness.
 - Compassionate: Precision does not preclude compassion. We speak to patients as human beings, not case files.
 - Humble: We acknowledge uncertainty. We admit when we do not know. We refer when appropriate.
 - Empowering: We educate patients about their condition and treatment. Informed patients are empowered patients.
-

10. VOICE AND TONE

The Brand Voice

The voice of Sunnah Remedies is scholarly, serene, and steadfast. It is the voice of a trusted teacher who has studied for decades and speaks with quiet authority. It is never shrill. Never desperate. Never trendy.

Voice Attributes

Attribute	Expression	Avoidance
Scholarly	Cites sources, uses precise terminology, acknowledges complexity	Oversimplification, buzzwords, pop-psychology
Serene	Measured pace, generous pauses, calm assurance	Urgency, hype, exclamation overload
Steadfast	Consistent principles, unwavering standards, long-term thinking	Reactive pivots, trend-chasing, opportunism
Warm	Personal address, genuine care, human recognition	Cold formality, robotic detachment
Humble	Acknowledges limits, invites correction, defers to Allah	Arrogance, certainty where doubt is warranted

Tone Variations by Context

Educational Content Tone: Authoritative, encouraging, precise

- “In this module, we examine the authentication of the hadith regarding black seed (Nigella sativa) and its pharmacological properties.”
- “You will notice that Ibn al-Qayyim categorises this remedy under...”

Clinical Communication Tone: Professional, compassionate, clear

- “Your treatment plan includes hijama at the following points, with the following contraindications to consider...”
- “Please contact us immediately if you experience any of the following symptoms...”

Marketing Communication Tone: Dignified, inviting, restrained

- “Our Advanced Hijama Practitioner Programme opens for applications in Dhū al-Ḥijjah. Places are limited.”
- “A new monograph on the pharmacology of Sunnah foods is now available to our correspondence subscribers.”

Community Communication Tone: Warm, familial, respectful

- “We pray this correspondence finds you in good health and increasing īmān.”
- “The community gathering this month will focus on...”

Crisis Communication Tone: Transparent, accountable, measured

- “We acknowledge the concern raised regarding...”
- “We have reviewed our protocols and implemented the following changes...”

11. WRITING STYLE

The Writing Ethos

Every word written by Sunnah Remedies must be:

1. True: Factually accurate, properly sourced, honestly presented
2. Clear: Understandable to the intended audience without condescension
3. Beautiful: Elegant in construction, pleasing to read, worthy of the tradition it represents

Writing Principles

Use Primary Sources When referencing prophetic medicine, cite the original hadith with its source (Ṣaḥīḥ al-Bukhārī, Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim, etc.). When referencing scholarly opinion, name the scholar and the work.

Define Technical Terms Always define Arabic terms on first use, followed by the transliteration: hijama (cupping therapy). Do not assume familiarity.

Avoid Superlatives Do not use “best,” “most effective,” “miracle cure,” or similar language. The Prophet said black seed is a cure for every disease except death. We transmit this. We do not amplify it.

Use Active Voice “The Prophet recommended...” not “It was recommended by the Prophet that...”

Prefer Concrete Over Abstract “Drink honey mixed with warm water” not “Implement a honey-based therapeutic protocol.”

Respect the Reader’s Intelligence Do not explain what does not need explaining. Do not oversimplify what requires nuance. Trust your reader.

Use Inclusive Language “Practitioners and patients” not “he or she.” “The student will find...” not “Students will find...”

Maintain Formality Without Stiffness We are formal but not archaic. “We are pleased to announce” not “We are stoked to announce.” “Please contact us” not “Hit us up.”

Punctuation and Formatting

- Use the Oxford comma.
- Use em-dashes for parenthetical statements — like this — not en-dashes or hyphens.
- Use proper Arabic transliteration with macrons (ā, ī, ū) and underdots (ḥ, ṣ, ḍ, ṭ, ḏ).
- Capitalise “Prophet” when referring to Muhammad . Capitalise “Sunnah,” “Qur’an,” and “Hadith.”
- Use “peace be upon him” () after the Prophet’s name. Use “may Allah be pleased with him/her/them”) / / (after the Companions.

12. EDITORIAL PRINCIPLES

The Editorial Covenant

Every piece of content published by Sunnah Remedies — whether a course module, a clinical protocol, a social media post, or a monograph — must pass the following editorial tests:

The Authenticity Test Is every prophetic reference traceable to an authenticated source? Is every scholarly reference properly attributed? If not, it does not publish.

The Accuracy Test Is every medical claim supported by evidence or properly qualified as traditional knowledge? Is every scientific reference current and credible? If not, it does not publish.

The Appropriateness Test Is this content appropriate for our audience? Does it respect Islamic boundaries? Does it avoid sensationalism, fear-mongering, or spiritual exploitation? If not, it does not publish.

The Excellence Test Is this content the best we can produce? Is the writing elegant? Is the design refined? Is the presentation professional? If not, it does not publish.

The Utility Test Does this content serve our audience? Does it educate, inform, or empower? Does it avoid vanity publishing? If not, it does not publish.

Editorial Workflow

1. Draft: Author produces content according to brand guidelines.
2. Scholarly Review: A qualified scholar reviews all prophetic and Islamic content.
3. Clinical Review: A qualified practitioner reviews all medical content.
4. Editorial Review: The editorial team reviews for style, tone, and accuracy.
5. Approval: Content is approved by the relevant department head.
6. Publication: Content is published with proper attribution and dating.

Content Categories

Category A: Sacred Texts Hadith, Qur'anic verses, and classical scholarly texts. These are presented with full attribution and context. Never paraphrased. Never edited.

Category B: Scholarly Commentary Contemporary scholarly analysis of prophetic medicine. These are presented with author attribution and scholarly credentials.

Category C: Clinical Content Treatment protocols, case studies, and clinical guidance. These are presented with evidence citations, contraindications, and safety warnings.

Category D: Educational Content Course materials, study guides, and instructional content. These are presented with learning objectives, assessments, and accreditation information.

Category E: Institutional Content Announcements, correspondence, and institutional communications. These are presented with the institutional voice and proper formality.

13. STORYTELLING PRINCIPLES

The Story We Tell

Sunnah Remedies tells the story of a living tradition. Prophetic medicine is not a museum piece. It is not a historical curiosity. It is a body of knowledge that has healed Muslims for fourteen centuries and continues to heal today — when transmitted with authenticity, practiced with skill, and bounded by wisdom.

Storytelling Archetypes

The Seeker The student who comes to us seeking authentic knowledge. Their journey from confusion to clarity. From doubt to confidence. From isolation to community.

The Practitioner The clinician who has trained with us and now serves their community. Their journey from student to master. From theory to practice. From learning to healing.

The Scholar The teacher who has devoted their life to preserving this knowledge. Their journey from curiosity to mastery. From individual study to institutional transmission.

The Patient The person who comes to us seeking relief. Their journey from illness to wellness. From despair to hope. From fragmentation to wholeness.

Storytelling Principles

Show, Don't Tell Do not tell the audience we are rigorous. Show them the curriculum. Show them the assessments. Show them the accreditation.

Specificity Over Generality “Fatima completed our Advanced Hijama Programme and now runs a clinic in Birmingham serving 200 patients annually” is better than “Our graduates are successful.”

Struggle and Transformation Every story includes struggle. The student who found the material challenging. The practitioner who faced a difficult case. The scholar who spent years mastering a single text. Struggle makes the transformation meaningful.

Community Over Individual While we tell individual stories, the hero is always the community — the Ummah, the tradition, the chain of transmission. Individuals are vessels, not heroes.

Humility in Success When we tell stories of success, we attribute it to Allah's blessing and the authenticity of the tradition. We do not celebrate individual brilliance. We celebrate divine favour and faithful transmission.

Storytelling Formats

Case Studies Clinical case studies with patient consent, anonymised data, and educational purpose. These demonstrate the integration of prophetic medicine with clinical practice.

Student Journeys Testimonials and profiles of students who have completed our programmes. These demonstrate the transformative power of authentic education.

Scholarly Monographs Deep dives into specific topics — a single hadith, a single remedy, a single scholarly debate. These demonstrate the depth of our scholarship.

Institutional History The story of Sunnah Remedies itself — why it was founded, how it has grown, what challenges it has faced. These demonstrate our commitment and resilience.

14. DESIGN PHILOSOPHY

The Design Ethos

The design of Sunnah Remedies must reflect sacred order, scholarly rigour, and clinical precision. Every design element — from the spacing between letters to the weight of a line — must be intentional, measured, and harmonious.

Design Principles

Intentionality Every element exists for a reason. No decoration without purpose. No ornament without meaning. If an element cannot justify its existence, it is removed.

Restraint Less is more. Restraint is not poverty; it is abundance in discipline. We use fewer elements, but each element is the best of its kind.

Hierarchy Information is organised by importance. The eye is guided naturally from the most important element to the least. No visual chaos. No competing focal points.

Harmony All elements work together. Colours complement. Typefaces harmonise. Proportions relate. The whole is greater than the sum of its parts.

Timelessness We design for permanence, not fashion. Classical proportions. Enduring typefaces. Mature colour palettes. What is beautiful today should be beautiful in twenty years.

Materiality Where possible, reference physical materials — paper, leather, wood, stone. Even in digital design, the feeling of material substance should be present.

Design Influences

- Islamic manuscript illumination: The use of gold, deep colour, and geometric precision
 - Classical European book design: The use of generous margins, elegant typography, and restrained ornament
 - Contemporary Swiss design: The use of grid systems, clear hierarchy, and functional beauty
 - Japanese wabi-sabi: The beauty of imperfection, the value of restraint, the dignity of simplicity
-

15. USER EXPERIENCE PHILOSOPHY

The UX Ethos

The user experience of Sunnah Remedies must feel dignified, effortless, and trustworthy. Every interaction — from landing on the website to receiving a certificate — must reinforce the brand promise of excellence and authenticity.

UX Principles

Clarity Over Cleverness Navigation is obvious. Labels are clear. Actions are predictable. We do not hide functionality behind clever interactions. We do not prioritise novelty over usability.

Generosity of Space We use generous whitespace. We do not crowd. We do not compress. The user should feel they have room to breathe, to think, to absorb.

Progressive Disclosure We do not overwhelm. Complex information is revealed progressively. The user controls the depth of their engagement.

Accessibility as Standard Our digital products are accessible to all users, regardless of ability. This is not an add-on. It is a fundamental requirement.

Performance as Politeness Our digital products load quickly. They respond immediately. They do not waste the user's time. Performance is a form of respect.

Consistency as Comfort Once a user learns our interface, they should feel at home everywhere. Consistent patterns. Consistent language. Consistent behaviour.

UX Touchpoints

Website

- Clean, spacious layout
- Clear navigation hierarchy
- Fast loading times
- Mobile-responsive design
- Accessible to screen readers
- Secure payment processing
- Clear course information and prerequisites

Learning Platform

- Intuitive course navigation
- Progress tracking
- Clear assessment instructions
- Accessible video content (captions, transcripts)
- Downloadable resources
- Community discussion forums

Clinical Booking

- Clear service descriptions
- Practitioner profiles with credentials
- Transparent pricing
- Online booking with confirmation
- Pre-treatment instructions
- Post-treatment follow-up

Correspondence

- Personal but professional tone
- Clear subject lines
- Relevant content only
- Easy unsubscribe
- Responsive to replies

16. VISUAL LANGUAGE

The Visual System

The visual language of Sunnah Remedies is built on a foundation of classical proportion, restrained colour, and typographic elegance. It is not flashy. It is not trendy. It is enduring.

Visual Elements

Line Lines are thin, precise, and purposeful. Used for structure, not decoration. Horizontal rules separate sections. Vertical rules create columns. Never decorative squiggles.

Shape Shapes are geometric and derived from Islamic pattern tradition. Circles, squares, octagons, and star polygons. Used with extreme restraint. Never as mere decoration.

Texture Textures reference natural materials — handmade paper, aged vellum, woven fabric, polished stone. Subtle, not overwhelming. Suggestive, not literal.

Space Whitespace is generous. Margins are wide. Elements breathe. Crowding is a sin.

Light Lighting in photography and illustration is natural, warm, and directional. Never flat. Never harsh. Never artificial.

Shadow Shadows are soft, subtle, and natural. Used to create depth, not drama. Never drop shadows on text. Never heavy shadows on UI elements.

Visual Hierarchy

1. Primary: The most important element — usually the headline or key message. Largest, boldest, most prominent.
 2. Secondary: Supporting information — subheadings, key details. Smaller, lighter, but still clear.
 3. Tertiary: Supplementary information — captions, metadata, fine print. Smallest, lightest, but legible.
 4. Quaternary: Structural elements — rules, borders, background textures. Subtle, almost invisible.
-

17. SIGNATURE BRAND ELEMENTS

The Signature Elements

These are the distinctive visual elements that make Sunnah Remedies instantly recognisable. They must be used consistently and protected vigorously.

1. The Mark (Icon)

Description The mark holds three elements within a single emerald field:

- The arch — an apothecary lantern and a threshold: heritage, shelter, and considered entry
- The droplet — the remedy itself, rendered in antique gold as the singular focal point
- The water — twin waves signalling purity, source, and the natural origin of what is offered

The Mark is Fixed Artwork Its proportions, stroke weights and internal relationships must never be redrawn, rebuilt or approximated. Always place supplied files. Never recreate.

Construction The mark is built on a square field divided into an even modular grid. The arch, droplet and waves align to this grid. The geometry is fixed — the construction diagram is provided for reference and reproduction checking only. Do not rebuild the mark from the grid.

Clear Space Protect the mark with clear space on all sides equal to X, where X is one quarter of the mark’s width. No other logo, wordmark, caption or graphic element may enter this zone. When in doubt, give the mark more room, never less.

Minimum Sizes

Application	Minimum Size
Icon —digital	24 px minimum (16 px for favicon only)
Icon —print	10 mm minimum width
Horizontal lockup —digital	180 px minimum width
Horizontal lockup —print	40 mm minimum width
Stacked lockup —print	30 mm minimum width

Below 24px the waves begin to close up; 16px is the absolute floor and is reserved for favicons and interface micro-uses only.

2. The Logo Suite

Beyond the primary logo, the icon is supplied in a controlled set of single and two-colour variations. Each has a defined purpose. Choose the variation by background, never by preference.

Variation	Description	Usage
Primary —Full Colour	Emerald field, ivory arch, gold droplet	Default. Use wherever colour and space allow.
App Icon —Rounded	Primary mark on rounded emerald tile	App icons and avatars.
Single-Colour Emerald	Whole mark in Deep Emerald on transparent	Light and ivory backgrounds.
Reversed —Ivory	Whole mark in Warm Ivory on transparent	Emerald, photographic and dark backgrounds.
Two-Colour on Light	Emerald arch with gold droplet on transparent	Premium light-background stationery.
Monochrome Black	Single-colour black	Fax, engraving, embossing, single-ink print.
Monochrome White	Single-colour white	Dark single-ink applications and overprinting.

Why the Emerald Field is Integral The arch and waves are rendered in Warm Ivory. They read only against the emerald field. For this reason the full-colour mark is always presented on its emerald tile. On backgrounds other than emerald, use the single-colour variations rather than lifting the ivory artwork onto a pale surface, where it would lose contrast and legibility.

3. The Lockups

When the mark appears with the name, use an approved lockup. The wordmark is set in Libre Baskerville, letterspaced; the descriptor line is set in Inter, widely tracked. Spacing between icon and wordmark is fixed within each file — never re-space, re-typeset or substitute the fonts.

Horizontal Lockup

- Icon left, wordmark right
- Primary signature for headers, letterheads and wide formats
- Available in: primary (full colour), reversed (ivory on dark), with descriptor

Stacked Lockup

- Icon above, wordmark below
- For square and centred formats, signage and social media
- Available in: primary (full colour), reversed (ivory on dark), with descriptor

Reversed Lockups On emerald and dark backgrounds, use the reversed lockups. The mark becomes ivory and the wordmark reverses to ivory for full contrast.

4. The Wordmark (Standalone)

The wordmark “SUNNAH REMEDIES” is available as a standalone element in three colourways:

- Emerald (for light backgrounds)
- Ivory (for dark backgrounds)
- Black (for single-ink applications)

Set in Libre Baskerville, letterspaced in all caps. The descriptor line “INSTITUTE OF PROPHETIC MEDICINE” is set in Inter, widely tracked, uppercase, beneath the wordmark.

5. The Seal of Authenticity

A circular seal used on certificates, monographs, and official documents. It features the institutional name and the phrase “Verified Transmission” or its Arabic equivalent.

Usage Rules

- Only use on official documents.
- Never use on marketing materials, social media, or casual communications.
- The seal must be used at a size where all text is legible.

18. BRAND PERSONALITY

The Brand as a Person

If Sunnah Remedies were a person, they would be:

Age: 45–55 Role: A senior professor of medicine and Islamic jurisprudence Dress: Impeccably tailored traditional attire — a well-worn but perfectly maintained thobe or suit Manner: Measured, warm, precise. Listens more than speaks. When they speak, people listen. Home: A library filled with manuscripts, leather-bound books, and the scent of oud Hobbies: Calligraphy, chess, botanical illustration Values: Truth, excellence, humility, service Fears: Dishonouring the tradition, misleading the seeker, compromising the standard Desires: To see prophetic medicine practiced with the same rigour as any established medical tradition

Personality Dimensions

Sincerity (High) We are genuine, honest, and wholesome. We do not pretend. We do not posture. We are who we say we are.

Competence (High) We are reliable, intelligent, and successful. We deliver on our promises. We know our subject deeply.

Sophistication (High) We are refined, elegant, and prestigious. We are not flashy. We are not common. We are distinguished.

Ruggedness (Low) We are not tough, outdoorsy, or rough. We are polished and indoor. This is not a weakness; it is an accurate reflection of our scholarly nature.

Excitement (Low) We are not daring, spirited, or imaginative in a trendy sense. We are steady, timeless, and grounded. We do not chase excitement. We provide stability.

19. TYPOGRAPHY PHILOSOPHY

The Typographic Ethos

Typography is the voice of the brand made visible. The typefaces we choose must reflect our values: scholarly authority, classical elegance, and contemporary clarity.

Primary Typeface: Libre Baskerville

Usage: Wordmark, headlines, titles, display text, moments of authority Characteristics: A print-rooted serif. Elegant, classical, authoritative. References the tradition of fine book printing and scholarly publishing. Weights: Regular, Medium, Bold Setting: Letterspaced in all caps for the wordmark. Sentence case for headings. Never use: Do not substitute with other serifs. The print-rooted quality is integral to the brand.

Secondary Typeface: Inter

Usage: Descriptor line, captions, labels, body copy, interface text, all running body Characteristics: A precise neutral sans. Clean, modern, highly legible. References the Swiss tradition of functional typography. Provides contrast to the primary serif. Weights: Light, Regular, Medium, Bold Setting: Widely tracked, uppercase for the descriptor line. Normal tracking for body and captions. Never use: Do not substitute with other sans-serifs. The precise neutrality is integral to the brand.

Tertiary Typeface: Traditional Arabic (or equivalent classical Arabic typeface)

Usage: Arabic text, Qur'anic quotations, scholarly terms Characteristics: Classical Naskh or Thuluth style. Not modern, not decorative. The typeface of manuscripts and sacred texts. Never use: Simplified or “modernised” Arabic fonts. They lack the dignity of the tradition.

Typographic Pairing Rationale

The pairing of Libre Baskerville and Inter signals scholarship and modern clarity at once. The serif carries authority and heritage; the sans carries functionality and precision. Together they express the brand’s dual nature: rooted in tradition, operating with contemporary rigour.

Typographic Scale

Level	Usage	Size (Desktop)	Size (Mobile)	Weight	Line Height
H1	Page titles, hero headlines	64px	36px	Regular	1.1
H2	Section headings	48px	28px	Regular	1.2
H3	Subsection headings	32px	22px	Medium	1.3
H4	Card titles, module names	24px	18px	Medium	1.4
Body	Paragraph text	18px	16px	Regular	1.6
Caption	Metadata, fine print	14px	12px	Regular	1.5
Label	UI elements, buttons	14px	12px	Medium	1.0

Typographic Rules

- Maximum line length: 75 characters for body text. Never exceed 90.
- Minimum line length: 45 characters. Never go below 35.
- Paragraph spacing: 1.5em between paragraphs. No indent.
- Alignment: Left-aligned for body text. Centred only for short display text.
- All caps: Use sparingly. Only for labels, navigation, and very short headlines. Never for body text.
- Letter spacing: Slight positive tracking (0.01em) for all caps. Normal for sentence case.
- Hyphenation: Avoid. Use ragged right edges rather than justified text with hyphenation.

20. COLOUR PSYCHOLOGY

The Colour Ethos

The colour palette of Sunnah Remedies is deep, warm, and restrained. Three colours carry the entire identity. They are used with discipline: emerald dominates, ivory provides ground and air, and gold is reserved for a single point of emphasis. Gold is an accent, never a fill — it should feel precious.

The palette sits close to default AI-generated aesthetics, so distinctiveness must come from print-craft typography and genuine institutional substance, not from colour novelty.

Primary Colours

Deep Emerald

- Hex: #0E3B2E
- RGB: 14, 59, 46
- CMYK: 84, 45, 68, 52
- Role: Primary / ground
- Psychology: Emerald represents growth, healing, depth, and the natural world. It is the colour of the apothecary, the garden, and the sacred. It dominates the identity.

Antique Gold

- Hex: #C7A25A
- RGB: 199, 162, 90
- CMYK: 22, 34, 72, 3
- Role: Accent only
- Psychology: Gold represents divine light, sacred knowledge, and excellence. It is precious without being ostentatious. It is reserved for the single focal point — the droplet.

Warm Ivory

- Hex: #F6F3EE
- RGB: 246, 243, 238
- CMYK: 3, 3, 6, 0
- Role: Ground / air
- Psychology: Ivory represents the manuscript tradition, parchment, and the physicality of knowledge. It is warm, not cold. It provides breathing room.

Colour Usage Rules

The Emerald Dominance Rule Emerald is the primary colour. It dominates backgrounds, headers, and key surfaces. Ivory provides ground and air. Gold is reserved for a single point of emphasis.

Gold as Accent Only Gold is an accent, never a fill. It should feel precious. Do not use gold for large areas, backgrounds, or body text. The droplet is the single permitted gold element in the mark.

The 60-30-10 Rule

- 60% Warm Ivory or white (dominant ground)
- 30% Deep Emerald (secondary / structure)
- 10% Antique Gold (accent / emphasis)

Contrast Requirements

- All text must meet WCAG AA contrast standards (4.5:1 for normal text, 3:1 for large text).
- Ivory text on emerald backgrounds: excellent contrast.
- Emerald text on ivory backgrounds: excellent contrast.
- Gold text: only on dark backgrounds with sufficient contrast. Never on light backgrounds.

Colour Prohibitions

- Never use neon or fluorescent colours.
- Never use gradients except very subtle, single-colour gradients for depth.
- Never use rainbow or multi-colour schemes.
- Never use colours not specified in this palette without approval.
- Never recolour the mark with off-palette fills.

Background & Placement Rules

Background	Approved Variation
Deep Emerald	Primary (full colour) or reversed ivory
Warm Ivory / white	Single-colour emerald, or two-colour on light
Mid / dark photography	Reversed ivory, or emerald holding panel
Single-ink light	Monochrome black
Single-ink dark	Monochrome white

On photography, place the reversed (ivory) mark over a calm, evenly toned area of the image, or set it within a solid emerald holding panel. Never place the mark over a busy or high-contrast region where the arch stroke would break up.

21. LAYOUT PHILOSOPHY

The Layout Ethos

The layout of Sunnah Remedies must reflect classical proportion, generous space, and clear hierarchy. Every layout is a composition, not a construction. It must feel inevitable, not arbitrary.

Grid System

Base Grid: 12-column grid with 24px gutters (desktop), 16px gutters (mobile) Margins: 80px minimum on all sides (desktop), 24px minimum (mobile) Baseline Grid: 8px vertical rhythm. All spacing, padding, and line heights are multiples of 8px.

Layout Principles

The Golden Ratio Where possible, use the golden ratio (1:1.618) for proportions — image ratios, column widths, spacing relationships. This creates natural harmony.

Asymmetrical Balance Layouts are not necessarily symmetrical, but they are always balanced. A large element on the left is balanced by smaller elements on the right. A heavy element at the top is balanced by whitespace at the bottom.

Generous Margins Margins are never less than 80px on desktop. Whitespace is not empty; it is full of potential. It gives the content room to breathe and the reader room to think.

Single Focal Point Every layout has one dominant element. The eye knows where to go first. Secondary and tertiary elements support, not compete.

Vertical Rhythm All elements align to a baseline grid. Text, images, rules, and spacing all sit on the same invisible lines. This creates a sense of order and calm.

Layout Patterns

The Manuscript Page

- Wide margins
- Single column of text
- Generous line height
- Subtle header and footer
- Used for: Monographs, long-form articles, sacred texts

The Academic Spread

- Two-column layout
- Image on one side, text on the other
- Clear hierarchy between primary and secondary content
- Used for: Course descriptions, case studies, profiles

The Clinical Card

- Grid of equal cards
- Consistent internal padding
- Clear image, title, and metadata
- Used for: Course listings, practitioner profiles, service menus

The Correspondence

- Single column, narrow width (max 680px)
- Generous margins
- Formal header and signature block
- Used for: Email newsletters, formal letters, announcements

22. MOTION PHILOSOPHY

The Motion Ethos

Motion in the Sunnah Remedies brand must be deliberate, graceful, and purposeful. It is not entertainment. It is not decoration. It is a functional element that enhances understanding and creates a sense of quality.

Motion Principles

Slowness is Dignity Animations are slow and smooth. Fast, snappy animations feel cheap and rushed. Our animations take time because they are worth taking time over.

Easing is Natural All animations use natural easing (ease-in-out, not linear). Movements accelerate and decelerate like physical objects. Nothing starts or stops abruptly.

Purpose Over Play Every animation serves a purpose — revealing content, indicating state change, guiding attention. Never animate for entertainment alone.

Subtlety is Strength Animations are subtle. The user should feel them more than see them. A gentle fade. A soft slide. A slow zoom. Not a bounce. Not a spin. Not a shake.

Performance is Mandatory Animations must be smooth (60fps) on all devices. Janky animations destroy trust. If an animation cannot be smooth, it should not exist.

Motion Specifications

Fade In

- Duration: 600ms
- Easing: ease-out
- Usage: Content reveal, page transitions

Slide Up

- Duration: 800ms
- Easing: cubic-bezier(0.25, 0.1, 0.25, 1)
- Distance: 30px
- Usage: Card reveals, section entrances

Scale In

- Duration: 500ms
- Easing: ease-out
- Scale: 0.95 to 1.0
- Usage: Modal dialogs, image reveals

Hover States

- Duration: 300ms
- Easing: ease-in-out
- Transform: subtle lift (translateY -4px) or subtle scale (1.02)

- Usage: Buttons, cards, links

Page Transitions

- Duration: 400ms
- Easing: ease-in-out
- Effect: Fade with slight slide
- Usage: Between pages in single-page applications

Motion Prohibitions

- No bouncing animations
- No spinning animations (except loading indicators)
- No shaking or wobbling animations
- No parallax scrolling (it causes accessibility issues and feels gimmicky)
- No auto-playing video or audio
- No animations that cannot be paused or disabled (accessibility requirement)

23. PHOTOGRAPHY PHILOSOPHY

The Photography Ethos

Photography for Sunnah Remedies must be authentic, dignified, and atmospheric. It is not stock photography. It is not posed marketing imagery. It is documentary, editorial, and respectful.

Photography Principles

Authenticity Over Perfection We photograph real people, real places, real moments. Not models. Not sets. Not artificial lighting. The slight imperfection of reality is more valuable than the perfection of artifice.

Dignity in Every Frame Every person photographed must be treated with dignity. No exploitative angles. No sensationalist cropping. No reduction of a person to a body part or a condition.

Atmosphere Over Information Our photographs create mood and atmosphere. They do not merely document. They evoke the feeling of the institution — scholarly, serene, sacred.

Natural Light Whenever possible, use natural light. Soft, directional, warm. Avoid harsh flash. Avoid flat studio lighting. The light should feel like it comes from a window, not a fixture.

Shallow Depth of Field Isolate subjects from busy backgrounds. Use wide apertures (f/1.8–f/2.8) to create soft, out-of-focus backgrounds. This creates focus and reduces visual noise.

Warm Colour Temperature Photographs should feel warm — not yellow, not orange, but warm. Like afternoon light. Like aged paper. Like a comfortable room.

Photography Subjects

Scholarly Spaces Libraries, manuscripts, reading rooms, study circles. Quiet, ordered, beautiful.

Clinical Spaces Treatment rooms, consultation spaces, preparation areas. Clean, professional, calm.

Natural Remedies Honey, black seed, olive oil, dates, herbs. Photographed with the same care as a still life painting. Textural, luminous, appetising.

Practitioners at Work Real practitioners treating real patients. Respectful, professional, focused. Never sensational. Never exploitative.

Students Learning Real students in real classes. Engaged, thoughtful, studious. Not posed. Not performing.

Photography Prohibitions

- No stock photography of “smiling Muslims” or “generic wellness”
 - No photographs of patients without explicit consent
 - No clinical photographs that violate patient privacy or dignity
 - No photographs that reduce people to stereotypes
 - No photographs with cluttered, distracting backgrounds
 - No photographs with harsh, artificial lighting
 - No photographs that feel “Instagrammed” or overly filtered
-

24. ILLUSTRATION PHILOSOPHY

The Illustration Ethos

Illustration for Sunnah Remedies must be refined, botanical, and scholarly. It references the tradition of scientific illustration — precise, beautiful, and educational.

Illustration Principles

Botanical Precision Illustrations of plants, herbs, and natural remedies must be botanically accurate. They are scientific illustrations, not decorative drawings. Every leaf, every seed, every stem must be correct.

Classical Technique Illustrations reference the techniques of classical botanical and medical illustration — fine line work, careful hatching, subtle watercolour. Not vector flatness. Not digital gloss.

Warm Palette Illustrations use the brand colour palette — warm golds, deep emeralds, ivory backgrounds. Never bright, never neon, never childish.

Restraint in Composition Illustrations are composed with restraint. A single plant, carefully rendered. A single remedy, precisely depicted. Not crowded compositions. Not busy scenes.

Illustration Subjects

- Botanical illustrations of Sunnah foods and remedies (black seed, olive, fig, date, honey)
- Anatomical illustrations for clinical content (cupping points, meridians, body systems)
- Historical illustrations of Islamic medical tradition (manuscript pages, instruments, scholars)
- Diagrammatic illustrations for educational content (processes, systems, comparisons)

Illustration Prohibitions

- No cartoonish or childish illustrations
- No vector flat illustrations (unless specifically approved)

- No illustrations with bright, non-brand colours
 - No illustrations that anthropomorphise or caricature
 - No illustrations that feel “tech” or “startup”
-

25. ICON PHILOSOPHY

The Icon Ethos

Icons for Sunnah Remedies must be precise, minimal, and functional. They are wayfinding tools, not decorations. They must be instantly understandable and visually consistent.

Icon Principles

Line-Based Icons are constructed from thin, consistent lines (1.5–2px stroke weight). No filled icons. No heavy icons. No multi-colour icons.

Geometric Precision Icons are built on a grid. Lines align to pixel boundaries. Corners are rounded (2px radius) for warmth, but shapes are geometric, not organic.

Single Colour Icons appear in a single colour — usually Deep Emerald or Warm Ivory. On dark backgrounds, they appear in ivory. On light backgrounds, they appear in emerald. Never multi-colour. Never gradient.

Universal Recognition Icons use universally recognised symbols. No abstract or obscure metaphors. If an icon needs a label to be understood, it is not a good icon.

Consistent Style All icons in a set share the same stroke weight, corner radius, and grid size. No mixing of icon styles.

Icon Usage

- Navigation: Home, Courses, Clinic, About, Contact
- Actions: Download, Print, Share, Bookmark, Enrol
- Status: Completed, In Progress, Locked, Verified, Accredited
- Clinical: Treatment, Consultation, Contraindication, Aftercare
- Educational: Module, Assessment, Certificate, Resource, Discussion

Icon Prohibitions

- No emoji-style icons
 - No 3D or skeuomorphic icons
 - No animated icons (except loading states)
 - No icons with text inside them
 - No icons smaller than 16px or larger than 48px without adjustment
-

26. ACCESSIBILITY STANDARDS

The Accessibility Ethos

Accessibility is not a feature. It is a requirement. Sunnah Remedies serves all people, and all people must be able to access our knowledge, our services, and our community.

Accessibility Principles

Perceivable

- All images have alt text.
- All videos have captions and transcripts.
- All audio content has transcripts.
- Colour is never the sole means of conveying information.
- Text can be resized up to 200% without loss of content or functionality.

Operable

- All functionality is available from a keyboard.
- No content flashes more than 3 times per second.
- Users have enough time to read and use content.
- Navigation is consistent and predictable.
- Form inputs have clear labels and error messages.

Understandable

- Text is readable and understandable (target reading age: 14 years).
- Navigation and functionality are predictable.
- Input errors are clearly identified and corrected.
- Language of the page is clearly identified.

Robust

- Content works with current and future assistive technologies.
- Markup is valid and semantic.
- ARIA labels are used where appropriate.

Specific Standards

WCAG 2.1 Level AA All digital products must meet WCAG 2.1 Level AA standards as a minimum. Level AAA is encouraged where feasible.

Text Contrast

- Normal text: 4.5:1 minimum contrast ratio
- Large text: 3:1 minimum contrast ratio
- UI components: 3:1 minimum contrast ratio

Focus Indicators

- All interactive elements have visible focus indicators
- Focus indicators are at least 2px solid outline
- Focus indicators have at least 3:1 contrast with adjacent colours

Screen Reader Compatibility

- All content is accessible to screen readers
- Heading hierarchy is logical (no skipping levels)
- Landmarks are used (header, nav, main, footer, etc.)
- ARIA labels are used for complex components

Motion Sensitivity

- No auto-playing animations
- Users can disable animations (prefers-reduced-motion)
- No parallax or vestibular-triggering effects

Cognitive Accessibility

- Clear, simple language
- Consistent navigation and layout
- Error prevention and recovery
- No time limits without alternatives

27. BRAND CONSISTENCY RULES

The Consistency Covenant

Brand consistency is not about rigidity. It is about trust. When our audience sees a Sunnah Remedies design, they should immediately know it is us. They should feel the same emotions, recognise the same values, and trust the same authority.

Consistency Rules

Rule 1: Use Only Approved Assets Only use logo files, typefaces, colours, and imagery from the approved brand library. Never create your own versions. Never download “similar” alternatives.

Rule 2: Follow the Templates Use the approved templates for all common documents — presentations, letters, social media posts, certificates. Templates exist to ensure consistency. Do not reinvent them.

Rule 3: Maintain the Voice All written content must follow the Voice and Tone guidelines. If you are unsure, consult the Editorial Team. It is better to delay than to publish off-brand content.

Rule 4: Respect the Hierarchy The visual hierarchy must be consistent across all materials. The institutional name is always most prominent. Whitespace is always generous.

Rule 5: Protect the Colours Use only the approved colour palette. Never introduce new colours without approval. Never use colours at unapproved values or opacities.

Rule 6: Typography Discipline Use only the approved typefaces. Use them at the specified sizes and weights. Do not substitute “similar” fonts. Do not use system defaults.

Rule 7: Image Quality All photographs must meet the Photography Philosophy standards. All illustrations must meet the Illustration Philosophy standards. No exceptions.

Rule 8: Approval Process All external-facing materials must be approved by the Brand Guardian before publication. This includes: website pages, social media posts, printed materials, course content, clinical documentation, and correspondence templates.

Rule 9: Version Control All brand assets are version-controlled. Use only the latest version. Check the asset library before beginning any design work.

Rule 10: Training All staff who create brand materials must complete Brand Bible training. No exceptions. Annual refresher training is mandatory.

28. BRAND DO'S AND DON'TS

THE DO'S

- ✓ Do use generous whitespace. It is not empty; it is full of dignity.
- ✓ Do cite sources for every prophetic and scholarly claim.
- ✓ Do use gold sparingly. It is an accent, never a fill. The droplet is the single permitted gold element in the mark.
- ✓ Do prioritise patient dignity in all clinical imagery and content.
- ✓ Do use natural light in photography. It is warmer, truer, and more beautiful.
- ✓ Do acknowledge uncertainty. “We do not know” is a mark of strength, not weakness.
- ✓ Do use classical proportions. The golden ratio, the rule of thirds, the grid.
- ✓ Do maintain high contrast for accessibility. Beauty must be accessible.
- ✓ Do use Arabic transliteration with proper diacritics. It shows respect for the language of revelation.
- ✓ Do proofread everything. Twice. Then again. Errors erode trust.
- ✓ Do use real people in photography. Authenticity is our luxury.
- ✓ Do design for permanence. Will this design be beautiful in ten years? If not, reconsider.
- ✓ Do attribute healing to Allah in all clinical and educational content. The remedy is a means.
- ✓ Do use the institutional voice consistently. Scholarly, serene, steadfast.
- ✓ Do respect Islamic boundaries in all imagery and content. No anthropomorphic depictions. No inappropriate mixing.
- ✓ Do provide transcripts and captions for all video and audio content.
- ✓ Do test all digital products for accessibility before launch.
- ✓ Do use the approved templates. They exist for a reason.
- ✓ Do seek approval from the Brand Guardian for all external-facing materials.
- ✓ Do remember: we are stewards, not owners, of this tradition.
- ✓ Do use the emerald field as integral to the primary mark. The ivory arch reads only against emerald.
- ✓ Do choose logo variations by background, never by preference.

- ✓ Do use the construction grid for reference and reproduction checking only. Never rebuild the mark from the grid.
 - ✓ Do protect the mark with clear space equal to X on all sides, where X = 1/4 of the mark's width.
 - ✓ Do use Libre Baskerville for the wordmark, letterspaced in all caps.
 - ✓ Do use Inter for the descriptor line, widely tracked, uppercase.
 - ✓ Do use the approved lockups. Never re-space, re-typeset or substitute the fonts.
 - ✓ Do place the reversed (ivory) mark over calm, evenly toned areas of photography, or within a solid emerald holding panel.
 - ✓ Do verify CMYK colours against a physical proof before production.
-

THE DON'TS

- ✗ Don't use stock photography of “smiling Muslims” or generic wellness imagery. It is inauthentic and off-brand.
- ✗ Don't make unverified medical claims. “Black seed is a cure for every disease except death” is a hadith. “Black seed cures cancer” is a claim we do not make.
- ✗ Don't use gold for large areas or backgrounds. It is an accent, not a field.
- ✗ Don't use more than two typefaces in any single piece. Harmony requires discipline.
- ✗ Don't use bright, neon, or trendy colours. They are not our palette.
- ✗ Don't use drop shadows, bevels, gradients, or other “Photoshop effects.” They are cheap and dated.
- ✗ Don't use all caps for body text. It is hard to read and feels aggressive.
- ✗ Don't use centred text for long passages. It is hard to read and looks amateur.
- ✗ Don't use animations for entertainment. They must serve a purpose.
- ✗ Don't use parallax scrolling, auto-playing media, or intrusive pop-ups. They are annoying and inaccessible.
- ✗ Don't use fear, guilt, or spiritual pressure to motivate action. We do not manipulate.
- ✗ Don't compare prophetic medicine to conventional medicine as “better” or “superior.” We integrate. We do not compete.
- ✗ Don't use the institutional seal on marketing materials. It is for official documents only.
- ✗ Don't distort, rotate, or alter the logo in any way. It is fixed artwork.
- ✗ Don't use the emblem smaller than the minimum size. It becomes illegible and loses dignity.
- ✗ Don't publish content without scholarly and clinical review. Accuracy is non-negotiable.
- ✗ Don't use cultural stereotypes or clichés. No desert scenes, no camel imagery, no orientalism.
- ✗ Don't use gender-mixed imagery in clinical contexts. Maintain Islamic boundaries.
- ✗ Don't forget: we are an institution, not a brand. We serve the tradition, not the market.
- ✗ Don't stretch or distort the mark. Constrain proportions always.

- ✗ Don't rotate or tilt the mark. It sits square and upright.
- ✗ Don't place the mark on low-contrast backgrounds. Avoid backgrounds too close in tone to the mark or its field.
- ✗ Don't recolour the mark. Only the three brand colours. No off-palette fills, gradients or effects.
- ✗ Don't drop the ivory mark on light backgrounds. The ivory arch vanishes on pale grounds. Use the emerald single-colour variation instead.
- ✗ Don't add effects to the mark. No shadows, glows, bevels, outlines or other embellishments.
- ✗ Don't lift the ivory artwork onto a pale surface. It would lose contrast and legibility.
- ✗ Don't use the mark below minimum sizes. Below 24px the waves begin to close up; 16px is the absolute floor.

APPENDIX A: BRAND ASSET CHECKLIST

Logo Files (Supplied as SVG and high-resolution PNG)

File	Description
icon-primary	Primary full-colour mark on emerald
icon-app-rounded	App icon —rounded emerald tile
icon-emerald	Single-colour emerald (light backgrounds)
icon-ivory-reversed	Reversed ivory (dark backgrounds)
icon-emerald-gold	Two-colour on light
icon-mono-black	Monochrome black
icon-mono-white	Monochrome white
favicon	Rounded favicon (16/32/48px PNG included)
wordmark-emerald	Standalone wordmark, emerald
wordmark-ivory	Standalone wordmark, ivory
wordmark-black	Standalone wordmark, black
lockup-horizontal-primary	Horizontal signature, primary
lockup-horizontal-reversed	Horizontal signature, reversed
lockup-horizontal-descriptor	Horizontal signature with descriptor
lockup-stacked-primary	Stacked signature, primary
lockup-stacked-reversed	Stacked signature, reversed
lockup-stacked-descriptor	Stacked signature with descriptor

Typography

- Libre Baskerville licensed and installed
- Inter licensed and installed
- Traditional Arabic typeface licensed and installed
- Web font files prepared (WOFF2, WOFF)
- Desktop font files prepared (OTF, TTF)

Colour

- Deep Emerald defined (HEX #0E3B2E, RGB 14·59·46, CMYK 84·45·68·52)
- Antique Gold defined (HEX #C7A25A, RGB 199·162·90, CMYK 22·34·72·3)
- Warm Ivory defined (HEX #F6F3EE, RGB 246·243·238, CMYK 3·3·6·0)
- Accessibility contrast ratios verified
- CMYK verified against physical proof

Templates

- Presentation template (16:9)
- Presentation template (4:3)
- Letterhead (A4)
- Letterhead (US Letter)
- Business card (front and back)
- Certificate template
- Social media templates (all platforms)
- Email template
- Website component library
- Course module template

Photography

- Photography style guide
- Approved photograph library
- Model release forms (all photographs)
- Clinical photography protocols

Illustration

- Botanical illustration library
- Anatomical illustration library
- Historical illustration library
- Icon library (all approved icons)

Motion

- Animation specification document
- Motion component library
- Video intro/outro templates

APPENDIX B: GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Brand Bible: The highest authority document governing all brand expression for Sunnah Remedies.

Brand Guardian: The individual or team responsible for enforcing brand consistency and approving all external-facing materials.

Clear Space (X): The protected area around the mark equal to 1/4 of the mark's width on all sides.

Construction Grid: The modular grid on which the mark is built. For reference and reproduction checking only. Never rebuild the mark from the grid.

Emblem: The geometric icon component of the Sunnah Remedies logo (the arch, droplet, and waves), used independently or as part of the full lockup.

Isnād: The chain of transmission for a hadith or scholarly teaching, tracing from the Prophet ﷺ through the generations to the present.

Lockup: The combination of the mark with the wordmark and/or descriptor in an approved configuration.

Prophetic Medicine (Ṭibb al-Nabawī): The body of medical knowledge transmitted from the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ through authenticated hadith and practiced by the classical scholars of Islam.

Ṣaḥīḥ: The highest category of hadith authenticity, meaning “sound” or “authentic.”

Seal of Authenticity: The official circular seal used on certificates, monographs, and formal documents to verify their authenticity.

Visual Language: The complete system of visual elements — colour, typography, imagery, layout, motion — that constitutes the brand’s visual expression.

Wordmark: The standalone text “SUNNAH REMEDIES” set in Libre Baskerville, letterspaced in all caps.

APPENDIX C: APPROVAL WORKFLOW

Step 1: Creation

Author/designer creates content or design according to Brand Bible guidelines.

Step 2: Self-Review

Author/designer reviews against the Brand Bible checklist (Appendix A).

Step 3: Department Review

Content is reviewed by the relevant department head (Education, Clinical, Marketing, etc.).

Step 4: Scholarly/Clinical Review

- Educational content: Reviewed by Scholarly Review Board
- Clinical content: Reviewed by Clinical Governance Board
- Marketing content: Reviewed for compliance with Islamic and brand standards

Step 5: Brand Guardian Review

All external-facing materials are reviewed by the Brand Guardian for consistency with this Brand Bible.

Step 6: Approval

Brand Guardian approves or requests revisions.

Step 7: Publication

Content is published with version control and archiving.

Step 8: Monitoring

Published content is monitored for compliance and performance.

APPENDIX D: FILE INDEX (From Brand Guidelines v1.0)

Every asset is supplied as scalable SVG and as a high-resolution PNG. SVG is preferred for all digital and print use; PNG is provided for convenience and for fixed-size interface applications.

File	Description
icon-primary	Primary full-colour mark on emerald
icon-app-rounded	App icon —rounded emerald tile
icon-emerald	Single-colour emerald (light backgrounds)
icon-ivory-reversed	Reversed ivory (dark backgrounds)
icon-emerald-gold	Two-colour on light
icon-mono-black	Monochrome black
icon-mono-white	Monochrome white
favicon	Rounded favicon (16/32/48px PNG included)
wordmark-emerald	Standalone wordmark, emerald
wordmark-ivory	Standalone wordmark, ivory
wordmark-black	Standalone wordmark, black
lockup-horizontal-primary	Horizontal signature, primary
lockup-horizontal-reversed	Horizontal signature, reversed
lockup-horizontal-descriptor	Horizontal signature with descriptor
lockup-stacked-primary	Stacked signature, primary
lockup-stacked-reversed	Stacked signature, reversed
lockup-stacked-descriptor	Stacked signature with descriptor

CLOSING COVENANT

This Brand Bible is a living document. It will evolve as the institution grows, as the market changes, and as our understanding deepens. However, its core principles — authenticity, excellence, humility, and service — are immutable.

Every person who works for or with Sunnah Remedies is a steward of this brand. We do not own it. We serve it. We protect it. We transmit it to the next generation with the same care and rigour that the scholars transmitted the knowledge of prophetic medicine through the centuries.

“Healing is from Allah; the remedy is a means.”

May Allah grant us success in preserving this sacred trust.

Document Control

- Version: 1.0
- Date: July 2026
- Author: Brand Guardian, Sunnah Remedies
- Review Cycle: Annual
- Next Review: July 2027
- Distribution: All Departments, All Partners, All Affiliates

Guidelines version 1.0 ·Sunnah Remedies — Institute of Prophetic Medicine Colours are specified for reference; verify CMYK against a physical proof before production.

2026 Sunnah Remedies. All rights reserved. This document is confidential and proprietary.